AMUSEMENT NOTES

"The Mayor of Laughland."

Announcement is made that Tom Waters will appear at the Barre opera house, Monday, Oct. 14, in "The Mayor of Laughland." This season, under the direction of Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman, Mr. Waters finds himself at the head of a large and talented company, and with an equipment of scenery and costumes that any star might well be proud of. As may easily be guessed, "Laughland" is constructed solely for comedy purposes. It hasn't a dull moment from start to finish, and if the newspaper notices from nearby cities may be believed, is one of the brightest, snappiest shows now before the public. There is a numerous chorus of pretty girls, who find ample opportunity to display a great array of handsome costumes.

30,824 JAPANESE ENTER IN 1907.

Figures for Year Ended June 30—Special Officers to Guard Border.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—In view of the troubles on the Canadian border in the far northwest caused by the great number of Japanese that are illegally crossing into the United States, the bureau of immigration dispatched Thursday five additional officers for immediate service there. Frank P. Sargent, chief of the bureau, said that no efforts would be spared to block the smuggling of Asiatics of every nationality across both the Canadian and Mexican borders and the bureau will, if necessary, call upon the war department to stop illegal passage. The report of the bureau of immigration soon to be published will show that the immigration of Japanese for the fiscal year ended June 30 amounted to 30,824. For March, April, May and June the immigration of Japanese was 10,061. From this it is seen that the president's proclamation has had no appreciable effect on Japanese immigration. The bureau, which is closely watching all arrivals of that nationality, has discovered that half of them belong to the laboring or prohibited class.

NAVAL OFFICER

INSANE IN PARIS.

Commander Briggs, Retired, Is a Victim of Persecution Mania.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The strange action of Commander John B. Briggs, U. S. N., retired, is causing alarm to his friends here. He appears to be suffering from the persecution mania. Yesterday he created a scene at a prominent hotel, imagining that 600 persons were pursuing him.

The navy department at Washington has been notified, and in the meantime Commander Briggs probably will be sent to an asylum.

John Bradford Briggs was acquitted by court-martial at Manila, on April 17, 1905, on a charge of having run the United States cruiser Baltimore ashore in Malacca strait, in September, 1904; with failure to report the accident to the commander in chief on the Asiatic station, and with misrepresentations in regard to the amount of damage done.

PRESIDENT SHOTS A DEER.

And Yesterday He Was Out After Catamounts.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 12.—A 250-pound buck hangs outside the president's tent, the finest trophy of his hunt in the Louisiana catamounts. The party was driving through the woods in pursuit of a bear Thursday, when a fine specimen of deer which had been started by the dogs crossed the president's path at a distance of seventy-five to one hundred yards. In an instant the president's rifle was at his shoulder, and other members of the party deformed to him. The shot went true, the deer plumed forward and fell, after running a few yards, although the president fired a second time. The deer was brought into camp by the negro helpers and dressed yesterday afternoon. Venison was running low, but with this killing the camp will have a supply for some time to come. One thing the president has acquired is an enormous appetite. Life in the catamounts has greatly increased his capacity for food.

BONAPARTE PLANS TO

Attorney General Talks The Matter Over With Kellogg and Morrison.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Attorney General Bonaparte in conference yesterday with Messrs. Kellogg and Morrison, the government's special counsel in the oil investigation and other cases, discussed the steps to be taken to compel E. H. Harriman to answer questions propounded by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

After the conference the attorney general made it plain that whatever steps necessary to make Harriman answer would be taken. It was given out some time ago that this case would be carried into the federal circuit court at New York.

But He Did in This Country, and He's the Common Man.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 12.—William Jennings Bryan arrived in this city yesterday and was escorted to the fair grounds by a reception committee of 150, headed by a band. He was introduced to the vast crowd assembled on the grounds by ex-Governor Montague, and spoke more than an hour. His subject was "The Average Man."

Mr. Bryan declared that the common man in this country was the average man, and that in no country he had visited abroad did he find an average man.

How the Artist's Model "Happens."

Most of our models are not made; they just happen. Girls in want cases of breeding and intelligence, most cases, the women who pose for a special occasion. Some acquaintance recognizes that they have distinction and style, and gives them the address of an illustrator who happens to need just such a person. They pose once in this way, more or less from necessity, and they can make an independent living in a congenial manner, and so come again. In consequence, the women who pose for a livelihood in New York are exceedingly nice as a class. The prevalent idea that the words "artist's model" necessarily means a highly paid, highly petted and utterly depraved individual is ridiculous in the extreme. A first-class artist's model in New York city receives $3 a day for six hours' hard work. A photographic model has, of course, a different proposition. She has shorter hours and higher rates.—From The Bohemian.

Can't Make Money Enough.

New York, Oct. 12.—Did you know there was a great shortage in the supply of $1, $2 and $5 bills in the United States treasury? Well, it's a fact, and United States Treasurer Treat says that in spite of everything he can do, he can't make enough small bills to keep pace with the demand.

Did It Matter?

Frederick Sandys, described by Ruskin as the greatest of English draughtsmen, was once asked before he was known to fame to paint the portrait of the mayor of a town, a most estimable grocer. The spokesman of the deputation said that the committee was prepared to pay as high as $50 for a good portrait, but on seeing the artist's face grew long added that they only wanted a half-length. "Oh, of course, that makes a difference," said the artist, most unhandily. "Which half would you prefer, gentlemen?"—Belham.

The Opinion of an Expert Poultry

Breeder.

Poultry breeders who have gained the reputation for the reliability of their stock either for exhibition or for general purposes are the ones whose example is well worth following. C. A. Brownings of Apponaug, R. I. is such a one, and what he says about Poultry Food is therefore of especial interest and value. "I have found 'Page's Perfected Poultry Food' to be a first class article. I feed it the year round. Chickens need it when they are growing; pullets need it when they are laying, and later, during the molting period, it is a great help."

Any one sending his address on a postal card to C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt., and mentioning this paper, will receive by mail, free, postpaid, a sample package of "Page's Perfected Poultry Food."

STRAFFORD.

Henry Richardson and wife of Spokane Falls, Wash., recently visited his father, Joseph Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoyt recently began housekeeping in the Charles Avery house, renting it furnished.

Hiram Hyde and wife of Brattleboro came to town last Tuesday, and took in the Turnbridge fair on Wednesday.

Raleigh Morrill left Strafford on Monday, the 7th, for Orono, Me., to enter the university of Maine for a course of study.

Miss Leonie Thorne, teacher of the primary school, South Strafford, went to her home in Chelsea last Friday for a visit over Sunday.

Alvin Carpenter drove the stage to Pompanooset last Wednesday for Mr. Silbaway, who took a load of people to the Turnbridge fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Pixley recently moved back to South Strafford from Norwich, and are at Albert Preston's, Mrs. Pixley's father.

Strafford creamery secured the third prize, the white ribbon prize, at the state fair, White River Junction, getting a percentage of 87 1/2 for butter exhibited.

Rev. George H. Gray of Starksboro, former pastor of the Free Baptist church of South Strafford, attended the quarterly conference and was the preacher on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sanborn are taking a vacation trip. The first part was spent among the White mountains, and the latter part is being taken at Greenfield, Mass., with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hoyt of Cambridge, Mass., visited their son, Walter Hoyt, and wife, last week. They are natives of Turnbridge, and are now visiting friends there and in adjoining towns.

George A. Bushnell and his son, Almon, have raised 800 bushels of potatoes this season. Mr. Bushnell supplies the hospital at Hanover with potatoes, and took a load of over 40 bushels there recently.

Among those who attended the Orange county conference at South Strafford last week were Mr. and Mrs. O. Godfrey of Bethel, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Williams of West Corinth. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Godfrey are sisters.

This town has a home department membership, started last February, which numbers between 80 and 90 persons. Whole families in quite a number of instances, including the "cradle roll," are members.

Mrs. Annie Hatch, after passing the summer in Strafford, recently returned to Lexington, Mass., with her son, W. M. Hatch. From there she is soon to go to Colorado Springs to pass the winter with George Hatch, a nephew, whom she brought up from early boyhood.

A large number of Strafford people attended the world's fair at Turnbridge last Wednesday and Thursday. The schools were dismissed on Tuesday by authority of the directors; but that being a stormy day, the schools of the upper village did not keep on Wednesday, but made up the day on Saturday.

L. A. Clark shipped a clock last Friday to Channing Hazeltine, North Cambridge, Mass., of the type of the old-fashioned tall clocks, so much in demand. Mr. Clark bought the works and made the case, selling it to Mr. Hazeltine, a former resident of Strafford.

Married, at the residence of the groom's father, H. H. Hawthorne, Harvey Hawthorne of this town and Miss Grace Watson of Turnbridge, a former teacher in the grammar school of the upper village schools. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. W. R. Bennett of South Strafford. Following the ceremony a reception was given, after which the bridal couple left for a wedding tour, with the best wishes of their many friends. They will reside in Strafford.

The Orange County Association of Free Baptists held its October session at South Strafford the 4th, 5th and 6th of this month, with a large attendance. It was a beautiful sight on Sunday afternoon when the preacher, with filial tenderness, assisted his father, over 80 years of age, to the pulpit platform and said: "Prayer will now be offered by my own father." And the prayer was offered, full of parental love and tenderness. The Sunday evening service of the Congregational church was dismissed, and between 15 and 20 persons attended the service at South Strafford. Mr. Silbaway took a large load down and back in his stage coach.

The interest which people who come to Strafford take in its historic town hall is very manifest. The building was erected in 1798, as a union meeting house with galleries on three sides, a high pulpit and a sounding board, the old style box pews throughout the house, except the front part of the galleries, which have two rows of plank seats, just as they were built 100 years ago. The box pews remain in the galleries excepting the doors and the seats. The town assisted in the building of the house, but it was used as a union meeting house for a quarter of a century or more, the town meetings being held there also, if we mistake not. The house stands on a hillock in the center of the upper village, which almost seems to have been put there on purpose for such a building. The hill is covered in part with maple shade trees, and down in front of this is the beautiful little village common, also surrounded with shade trees. The tall spire is about the first thing one sees of this typical little New England village, whatever the direction from which he enters it. In the belfry hangs the old bell, of excellent tone, from which we may read: "Cast by George H. Holbrook, Medway, Mass., 1832." The auditorium is lighted by forty-five windows, each containing forty 7 x 9 inches of glass, and the old house presents a beautiful appearance when lighted up in the evening. Years ago the box pews on the lower floor and the high pulpit were removed, and the hall fitted up to suit the convenience of these more modern ideas. But the old sounding board was allowed to remain. The building, tower and all, is lighted by nearly 2,000 panes of 7 by 9 glass. It is evident that the fathers and mothers who made Strafford what it is, believed in light. A bright girl from an adjoining town, while looking over the town house recently, said to your correspondent: "I should think this old house would ache awfully." "Why?" was the question asked. "Because it has so many panes."
